Fisherman Resists Officer

George LaFrance, Burlington fisherman, was brought into Addison county court Friday afternoon on a charge of resisting an officer. It is said that LaFrance was fishing in Ripton and when placed under arrest by Deputy Warden Huntley on suspicion that he had short trout in his possession, he started to run from the officer. He was afterwards apprehended in Ripton and when taken into court was bound over in the sum of $200 for appearance June 20, when court reconvenes.

Warden H. R. Hayes of Middlebury reports arresting Dr. E. H. Battles of Burlington on June 13 for having four short trout, on two of which he was fined $20 and costs of $2.50 before E. S. Hayes of Goshen. He had a fishing license, which will be revoked by the commissioner.

Brief Items of Interest From Around the State

Edward J. O'Neill of St. Albans was awarded third prize in the annual Kingsley prize speaking contest held at the University of Vermont chapel Friday evening. Another St. Albans boy, who competed, was A. Bradley Soule.

About 60 people took the tour of the Jersey cattle owners and breeders of Washington county into Caledonia county Friday. Moving pictures were shown at the Darling farm at East Burke where a herd of 200 head of Jersey cattle was inspected.

The number of pheasant chicks on the State game farm at St. Albans has increased to 800, and at the present percentage of hatching there will probably be 600 more, out of the total of 2,000 eggs set, Commissioner H. P. Sheldon states. All the chicks are in a healthy condition.

Dennison Slack, 70 years old, was badly cut about the head and his wagon was damaged when a tree fell across the road and struck the vehicle as he was driving towards Bethel during a heavy rain, hail and wind storm Monday afternoon. Though somewhat stunned, he continued his trip to Bethel and returned to his farm.

The three surviving members of the class of 1864 at Middlebury college had a reunion at Middlebury this week. The members of the trio are Rev. Ezra Brainerd, former president of the college, J. K. Batchelder, senior member of the law firm of Bates & Batchelder, of Bennington, and Dr. L. H. Hemenway of Honolulu, formerly of Manchester.

Mrs. George E. Ladd, 60, wife of the late George E. Ladd, former pastor of the Waterbury Congregational church, is dead at Woodstock. Mrs. Ladd was the daughter of Cyrus Hamlin, at one time president of Middlebury college and later president of Robert college in Constantinople. She leaves two daughters, Alice, who graduates this week from Middlebury college, and Carolyn, a student at Wellesley college.

C. E. Kent of Sherburne was in Rutland Tuesday morning exhibiting a yearling bear which he trapped in the vicinity of Sherburne this week. This latest catch makes a total of two bears and one bobcat to Mr. Kent's credit for the past week. The bear captured this week makes 25 which Mr. Kent has in his career as a trapper and a hunter. He usually makes an effort to capture the animals alive in order that he can dispose of them to circuses and fairs.

The party from Field and Stream which came to Vermont to take moving pictures of bass fishing on Lake Champlain completed its work at Shanty Point on Albion bay Thursday and returned to New York city. Commissioner H. P. Sheldon is of the opinion that six or seven good exposures were obtained on the six bass caught. He himself caught one bass weighing about three pounds. All the bass were returned to the lake as soon as photographed. One flashlight was also taken of wall-eyed pike fishing at night.

Damage to the amount of about $1,000 was done by a fire in George Rice's house on South Main st., Brattleboro, Saturday and one fire truck driver, Glen A. Atkins, was thrown from the hook and ladder truck and sustained an injury to one shoulder. The horses turned to quickly as they left the hook and ladder house, causing a wheel to strike the door casing. One of the tugs broke and the horses ran with the truck swaying from side to side until it hit a pole, smashing a ladder and throwing Mr. Atkins to the ground.

Students at the University of Vermont, Burlington, are ready to marry, if the proper financial conditions can be met. A vote was recently taken among the members of the senior class and one of the questions asked was, "What do you consider the proper income for marriage?" A very few who, perhaps, do not wish to marry set very high incomes, but the majority believe that a young married couple can do very well upon an income ranging from $2,500 to $3,000. The person who seemed less troubled by money matters set $1,200 as her mark. One of the men, of perhaps a more cynical turn of mind than the rest, gave as his opinion that $1,800 is enough for some, but "faith, hope and charity for others."

25 MEN TO REPORT AT LAKE DUNMORE

Coach Morey Announces Those Receiving Appointment To Training Camp—Have Regular Gridiron

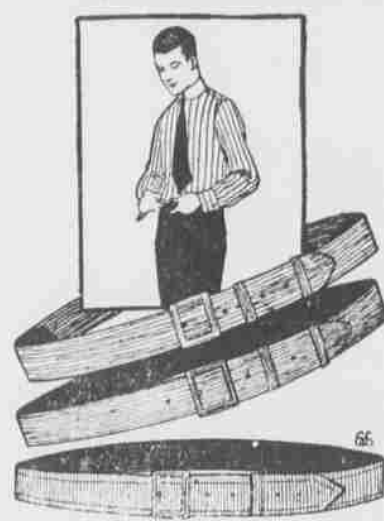

An announcement made by Coach "Dave" Morey, this morning, states that 25 football men are expected to report at the 1922 football training camp which will open September 4, at the Higgins Tavern on Lake Dunmore. A regulation gridiron will be laid out on land near the Tavern. Every advantage will be secured and every effort expended to make these first two weeks of preliminary training of the greatest possible value to the squad which is fully confident of landing the state championship next fall.

Only veterans and men of known ability have been invited to report at the camp. Among the old guard who will report are: Captain Drost, Leonard, Quackenbush, Ashley, Jakeway, Papke, Daley, Holquist, Kilbride, and Lobo—all backfield men; also Moynihan, Kalin, Gallagher, Klevenow, Lanpher, Riegelman, Jeffrey, Leary, Carboy, Yeaw, Brainerd, and White—all veterans of the line.

Regular practice will be held both morning and afternoon, and will be supplemented by rule study and blackboard talks by Coach Morey every evening. The coach plans to have practically all the offensive and defensive work for the Harvard, Dartmouth, Williams and Penn State games, completed at training camp, since he intends to give the men no scrimmage practice from the time they leave camp until after these first four games have been played.

The blue-hosed warriors will be seen to appear on the gridiron next fall clad in grey jerseys in place of the customary blue which Middlebury teams have worn from time immemorial. The reason for the change is that nearly all of Middlebury's opponents dress in dark-colored jerseys. In order that Morey's men can be more easily and quickly distinguished from their opponents they will don jerseys of a lighter color the coming season.

A glance at the football schedule will show that the Blue has some hard contests in view and that most of the teams which Coach Morey's wards will buck up against next fall will probably outweigh them several pounds to the man. Middlebury can not hope to win victories over Penn. State, Dartmouth, Harvard, Columbia, or Williams, by straight football. Consequently, an effective and consistent passing game must be developed. The success of such tactics was proven in the Williams game of last season, and it can be stat-
